Notes to Financial Statement

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Accounting Practices

Summa Insurance Company's (the Company or SIC) statutory financial statements are presented on the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Ohio Department of Insurance (ODI).

The ODI recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Ohio (the State) for determining its solvency under Ohio Insurance Law. NAIC SAP has been adopted as a component of the prescribed or permitted practices by the State with some modifications. These modifications include a five-year life on Electronic Data Processing (EDP) equipment and a 90-day limitation on collection of affiliate balances. Accordingly, the admitted assets, liabilities, capital and surplus of the Company as of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010 and the results of its operations and its cash flow for the years then ended have been determined in accordance with accounting principles prescribed or permitted by the ODI. Management believes the difference in capital and surplus between NAIC SAP and accounting principles prescribed or permitted by the ODI is not material.

B. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with NAIC SAP, the NAIC Annual Statement Instructions and other accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the ODI requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates.

C. Accounting Policy

The Company uses the following accounting policies:

1) Cash and Short-Term Investments

Cash and short-term investments include cash on hand, cash held in bank accounts (including overdrafts), interest bearing deposits, and money market instruments purchased with an original maturity of one year or less.

2) Premiums and Related Commissions

Health premiums are earned ratably over the terms of the related insurance contracts or policies. Expenses incurred in connection with acquiring new insurance business, including acquisition costs such as sales commissions, are charged to operations as incurred. Premiums billed and collected in advance are recorded as premiums received in advance.

Premium deficiency losses are recognized when it is probable that expected claim expenses will exceed future premiums on existing health and other insurance contracts. For purposes of premium deficiency losses, contracts are grouped in a manner consistent with the Company's method of acquiring, servicing and measuring the profitability of such contracts.

3) Investments and Investment Income

U.S. government securities and mortgage backed securities are recorded at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The fair values of the securities are based on values published by the Securities Valuation Office (SVO) of the NAIC. Short-term investments include all investments whose maturity, at the time of acquisition, are one year or less and are stated at amortized cost, which approximates fair value. Investment income consists primarily of interest. Interest is recognized on an accrual basis. Interest income is determined on the effective yield method based on estimated principal repayments. Realized capital gains and losses are determined on a specific identification basis based on the trade date.

Valuation of the insurance subsidiary (SC) is based upon statutory equity. The valuation of the noninsurance subsidiaries (Apex and SIA) are valued at U.S. GAAP equity, adjusted for nonadmitted assets.

Management regularly reviews its investment portfolio to evaluate the necessity of recording impairment losses for other-than-temporary declines in the fair value of investments. A number of criteria are considered during this process, including, but not limited to, the current fair value as compared to amortized cost or cost, as appropriate, of the investment, the length of time the investment's fair value has been below amortized cost or cost, as appropriate, and by how much, and specific credit issues related to the issuer and current economic conditions. Estimates for other-than-temporary declines in the fair value of invested assets are included in net investment income. There were no impairment losses for other-than-temporary declines in the fair value of investments in 2011 and 2010.

4) Hospital and Medical Expenses and Cost Recognition

The cost of healthcare services is recognized in the period in which services are provided. Healthcare expenses also include an estimate of the cost of services provided to SIC members by third party providers, which have been incurred but not reported to SIC. The estimate for incurred but not reported claims is based on actuarial projections of costs using historical paid claims data. Estimates are continually monitored and reviewed and, as settlements are made or estimates are adjusted, differences are reflected in current operations. Such estimates are subject to the impact of changes in the regulatory environment and economic conditions. Given the inherent variability of such estimates, the actual liability could differ significantly from the amounts provided. While the ultimate amount of claims paid are dependent on future developments, management is of the opinion that the reserves for claims and the cost to process claims make a reasonable and appropriate provision to cover such claims.

5) Reinsurance

Reinsurance premiums are reported as a reduction of premiums earned and reinsurance recoveries are reported as a reduction to hospital and medical benefits expense.

6) Income Taxes

SIC and its subsidiaries and affiliates files a consolidated federal income tax return. Each member of the consolidated tax return computes their tax liability on a separate return basis and, in addition, is reimbursed currently for utilization of tax net operating losses and tax credits that exist on a consolidated basis. The Company is not subject to state income taxes as it is licensed as a domestic stock property and casualty company under Chapter 3929.01 of the Ohio Revised Code.

Deferred tax assets, net of any nonadmitted assets, and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. In accordance with SSAP No. 10, admitted deferred tax assets are limited to 10% of statutory capital and surplus adjusted to exclude certain items as defined. The change in deferred taxes is charged or credited directly to capital and surplus.

7) Stock Options

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation using the fair value method prescribed in the Statement of Statutory Accounting Principles No. 13, Stock Options and Stock Purchase Plans. Total compensation cost of the stock options measured as the excess of the fair value of the options over the option exercise price was recognized on January 1, 2000, as there was no requirement of future performance. There were no stock options issued in 2011 or 2010.

8) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation and amortization are computed using the straight-line method over the shorter of the estimated useful lives of the assets, or the lease term of the leasehold improvement. Repairs and maintenances costs are expensed as incurred.

2. Accounting Changes and Corrections of Errors

Under the 2000 Summa Insurance Company, Inc. Nonqualified Stock Option Plan (the Plan), the Company granted options to certain SHN (formerly Akron City Health System) physicians for the purchase of up to 38,190 restricted shares of Class B common stock.
