d. Loan Backed Securities

1. Anticipated prepayments for loan-backed and structured securities are used to determine the effective yield of an issue at purchase. Changes in the estimated cash flows of the issue are incorporated when determining the statement value at the end of each quarter and year-end. Prepayments for loan-backed and structured securities were obtained from the broker dealer survey or Bloomberg Systems. These assumptions are consistent with the current interest rate and economic environment. The retrospective scientific method is used to value most loan-backed and structured securities. For structured securities deemed to be high-risk, meaning the Company might not recover substantially all of its recorded investment due to unanticipated prepayment events, changes in investment yields due to changes in estimated future cash flows are accounted for on a prospective basis

2. The Company has the following recognized other-than-temporary impairments on loan-backed securities:

4. All impaired securities (fair value is less than cost or amortized cost) for which an other-than-temporary impairment has not been recognized in earnings as a realized loss (including securities with a recognized other-than-temporary impairment for non-interest related declines when a non-recognized interest related impairment remains):
 - a. The aggregate amount of unrealized losses:
 - a. Less than 12 months $402,693
 - b. 12 Months or Longer $2,278,129
 - b. The aggregate related fair value of securities with unrealized losses was
 - a. Less than 12 months $20,166,923
 - b. 12 Months or Longer $9,799,937
5. The Company periodically reviews its fixed maturity securities on a case-by-case basis to determine if any decline in fair value below amortized cost is other-than-temporary. Factors considered when determining whether a decline is other-than-temporary include the length of time a security has been in an unrealized loss position, reasons for the decline in value, expectations for the amount and timing of a recovery in fair value, and the Company's intent to sell and whether the Company is more likely than not will be required to sell the security. When the Company intends to sell an impaired security or more likely than not will be required to sell an impaired security before recovery of its amortized cost basis, an other than temporary impairment is recognized in earnings. If the Company does not expect to recover the entire amortized cost basis of an impaired debt security, even if it does not intend to sell the security and it is not more likely than not that it will not be required to sell the security before recovery of its amortized cost basis, the entity must consider, based upon an estimate of the present value of cash flows expected to be collected on the debt security as compared to its amortized cost basis, whether a credit loss exists. The portion of the total other than temporary impairment related to a credit loss is recognized in the statement of income. For structured securities the difference between amortized cost and net present value of future cash flows is considered to be a credit loss. For all other securities, the difference between fair market value and amortized cost is considered to be a credit loss. If it is determined that a decline in fair value of an investment is temporary, an other-than-temporary impairment loss is not recorded.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Generally, securities with fair values that are less than 80% of cost and other securities the Company determines are underperforming or potential problem securities are subject to regular review. To facilitate the review, securities with significant declines in value, or where objective criteria evidencing credit deterioration have been met, are included on a watch list. Among the criteria for securities to be included on a watch list are: credit deterioration which has led to a significant decline in value of the security; a significant covenant related to the security has been breached; and an issuer has filed or indicated a possibility of filing for bankruptcy, has missed or announced it intends to miss a scheduled interest or principal payment, or has experienced a specific material adverse change that may impair its creditworthiness.

When performing these reviews, the Company considers the relevant facts and circumstances relating to each investment and exercises considerable judgment in determining whether a security is other-than-temporarily impaired. Assessment factors include judgments about an obligor's current and projected financial position, an issuer's current and projected ability to service and repay its debt obligations, the existence of, and realizable value of, any collateral backing the obligations, the macro-economic and the micro-economic outlooks for specific industries and issuers. Assessing the duration of asset-backed securities can also involve assumptions regarding underlying collateral such as prepayment rates, default and recovery rates, and third-party servicing capabilities.

Among the factors considered is whether the decline in fair value results from a change in the quality of the security itself, or from a downward movement in the market as a whole, the likelihood of recovering the carrying value based on the current and short-term prospects of the issuer, and the Company's ability and intent to hold the security until such a recovery may occur. Unrealized losses that are considered to be primarily the result of market conditions, such as increasing interest rates, unusual market volatility, or industry-related events, and where the Company also believes there exists a reasonable expectation for recovery and, furthermore, has the intent and ability to hold the investment until maturity or the market recovery, are usually determined to be temporary. To the extent factors contributing to recognize other-than-temporary impairment losses affected other investments, such investments were reviewed for other-than-temporary impairment and losses were recorded when appropriate.

In addition to the review procedures described above, investment in structured securities where market prices are depressed are subject to a review of their future estimated cash flows, including expected and stress case scenarios, to identify potential shortfalls in contractual payments. Even in the case of severely depressed market values on structured securities, the Company places significant importance on the results of its cash flow testing and its ability and intent to hold these securities until their fair values recover when reaching other-than-temporary impairment conclusions. If there has been an adverse change in estimated cash flows which results in negative yield, an other-than-temporary impairment is recognized in the consolidated statements of income.

There are inherent uncertainties in assessing the fair values assigned to the Company's investments and in determining whether a decline in fair value is other-than-temporary. The Company's review of fair value involves several criteria including economic conditions, credit loss experience, other issuer-specific developments and future cash flows. These assessments are based on the best available information at the time. Factors such as market liquidity, the widening of bid/ask spreads and a change in the cash flow assumptions can contribute to future price volatility. If actual experience differs negatively from the assumptions and other consideration, realized losses may be recognized in the consolidated statements of income in future periods.

The Company currently does not have the intent to sell securities with unrealized losses not considered other-than-temporary until they mature or recover in value. However, if the specific facts and circumstances surrounding a security or the outlook for its industry sector change, the Company may sell the security and realize a loss.

20. Fair Value Measurements

A. Assets Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis

(1) The Company does not have any assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis at March 31, 2011.

(2) The Company does not have any assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis with significant unobservable inputs (Level3).

(3) Certain financial instruments are periodically measured at fair value on a recurring basis, such as common stock.

The fair value of an asset is the amount at which that asset could be bought or sold in a current transaction between willing parties that is other than in a forced or liquidation sale. The fair value of a liability is the amount at which that liability could be incurred or settled in a current transaction between willing parties.

Fair values are based on quoted market prices when available. When market prices are not available, fair value is generally estimated using discounted cash flow analyses, incorporation of current market inputs for similar financial instruments with comparable terms and credit quality (matrix pricing). In instances where there is little or no market activity for the same or similar instruments, the Company estimates fair value using methods, models, and assumptions that management believes market participants would use to determine a current transaction price. These valuation techniques involve some level of management estimation and judgment, which becomes significant with increasingly complex instruments or pricing models. Where appropriate, adjustments are included to reflect the risk inherent in a particular methodology model or input used.

The Company's financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value have been classified, for disclosure purposes, based on a hierarchy. The hierarchy gives the highest ranking to fair values determined using unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest ranking to fair values determined using methodologies and models with unobservable inputs (Level 3). An asset's or liability's classification is based on the lowest level input that is significant to its measurement. For example, a Level 3 fair value measurement may include inputs that are both observable (Levels 1 and 2) and unobservable (Level 3). The levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level 1 – Values are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets and liabilities in active markets accessible at the measurement date.

Level 2 – Inputs include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices from those willing to trade in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by market data for the term of the instrument. Such inputs include market interest rates and volatilities, spreads, and yield curves.

Level 3 – Certain inputs are unobservable (supported by little or no market activity) and significant to the fair value measurement. Unobservable inputs reflect the Company's best estimate of what hypothetical market participants would use to determine a transaction price for the asset or liability at the reporting date.

STATEMENT AS OF MARCH 31, 2011 OF THE BCS Insurance Company

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(2) The Company does not have any assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis with significant unobservable inputs (Level3).

(3) Certain financial instruments are periodically measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis, such as when impaired, or for certain bonds when carried at the lower of cost or market.

The Company uses the same fair value process and policy as described in Note 20 A (3).
