B. Use of Estimates in the Preparation of the Financial Statements – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Statutory Accounting Principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. ## Tax Reform

On December 22, 2017, The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act Tax Act (the "Tax Act") was enacted and is one of the most comprehensive changes in U.S. corporate income taxation since 1986. The Tax Act revises the U.S. corporate income tax by lowering the corporate income tax rate from a top marginal rate of 35% to a flat rate of 21%. In addition to lowering tax rates, changes were made to the amount of the dividends received deduction and the calculation of tax base life reserves. The Tax Act also repeals the three-year carryback, 15-year carryforward period for life insurance companies' operating losses. The Act provides that life companies may carry operating losses forward indefinitely but limits utilization of these losses to 80 percent of a given year's taxable income with no loss carryback ability. The Company has reflected the operating loss changes for purposes of calculating the amount of admissible deferred tax assets for purposes of SSAP 101, paragraph 11a.

The Tax Act is effective January 1, 2018. We estimate that the reduction in corporate income tax rate, without consideration of admissibility under SSAP 101, decreased our net deferred tax asset as of December 22, 2017, by $35,979,671. Of this amount, $82,276 of decrease relates to unrealized capital gains and losses on investments and will be reported in the Summary of Operations, Capital and Surplus Account, line 38, Change in net unrealized capital gains (losses) less capital gains tax. The remainder, $35,897,395 of decrease, relates to statutory and tax base differences in life and health reserves, deferred acquisition costs, nonadmitted assets exclusive of SSAP 101 admissibility tests, basis differences on investments held and other immaterial differences, will be reported in the Summary of Operations, Capital and Surplus Account, line 40, Change in net deferred income tax. Illustrated below is the impact of the tax rate change of deferred taxes as a result of the Tax Act

	Deferred Taxes at 35%	Deferred Taxes at 21%	Tax Rate impact
Operating Deferred Tax Items	88,870,920	53,322,552	35,548,368
Nonadmitted Deferred Tax Items	872,568	523,541	349,027
Unrealized Deferred Tax Items	205,690	123,414	82,276
Net Deferred taxes	89,949,178	53,969,507	35,979,671

The effect of the rate change was recorded as a one-time noncash tax expense and is shown as a separate item in Section D, Reconciliation of federal income tax rate to actual effective rate, for the year ended December 31, 2017, with an effective tax rate impact of 258.65%. The tax rate impact results from re-measuring our net deferred tax liability at the newly enacted corporate income tax rate of 21% (the rate at which the deferred items are expected to be settled) versus the 35% rate at which the net deferred tax benefits were previously carried.

Consistent with SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin 118, which provides guidance on accounting for the tax effects of the Tax Act, a company must reflect the income tax effects of those aspects of the Tax Act for which the accounting under ASC 740 is complete. To the extent that a company's accounting for certain income tax effects of the Tax Act is incomplete but it is able to determine a reasonable estimate, it must record a provisional estimate in the financial statements. If a company cannot determine a provisional estimate to be included in the financial statements, it should continue to apply ASC 740 on the basis of the provisions of the tax laws that were in effect immediately before the enactment of the Tax Act. Final guidance has not been issued with respect to calculating tax base life reserves under the Tax Act, but we believe we have computed a reasonable estimate for purposes of admitting deferred tax assets under SSAP 101. We expect to complete determination of the effects of the Tax Act on our deferred tax assets and liabilities once the IRS issues applicable guidance and as part of the annual income tax return filing process which is expected to be completed in the fourth quarter of 2018.
